PLAYER OF THE WEEK
NAJHA TREADWELL • Stockton University
Senior • Forward • Cinnaminson, NJ/Cinnaminson

Treadwell picks up her second and Stockton’s sixth overall NJAC Player of the Week honor after putting up monster numbers in two conference wins last week. She averaged 21.0 points, 20.0 rebounds, 2.0 steals, 1.5 assists, and 1.0 blocked shots in wins over Rutgers-Newark and Kean. She drained 22 points and grabbed 21 rebounds against the Scarlet Raiders, while chipping in two blocks, two assists, and a steal. She recorded her second straight 20-point game with 20 against the Cougars, while adding 19 rebounds (10 on the offensive glass), three steals, and an assist. For the season, Treadwell leads the NJAC in field goal percentage (61.0%) and ranks second in rebounding (10.5 rpg), and third in scoring (17.2 ppg). She has amassed six consecutive double-doubles and totaled 13 in 24 games this season. Treadwell is one of only two players in the league averaging a double-double for the season, joining teammate Sasha Williams in that category.

ROOKIE OF THE WEEK
SHANE HOLMES • Rutgers-Camden
Freshman • Guard • Mount Laurel, NJ/Lenape

Holmes earns her first NJAC Rookie of the Week honor after leading Rutgers-Camden in a pair of conference games last week. She averaged 11.0 points, 3.0 rebounds, 1.5 steals, and 1.0 assists while going 47 percent (8-for-17) from the field. She chipped in nine points along with three boards, two assists, and two steals in a win over Ramapo. She then collected a career-high 13 points on 5-for-10 shooting with three made threes in a setback to William Paterson. She contributed three rebounds and a steal against the Pioneers. Holmes currently ranks fifth among all NJAC players in three-point percentage, making 37.1 percent of her long range shots.
